

Innovation Strategist

Organization Overview

Unfortunately, too many people in the U.S. today lack financial security. Too many people are financially vulnerable. For people to pursue their full potential, we need more wealth – of opportunity, of tools, of financial assets – and we need that wealth to be more common.

Commonwealth strengthens the financial opportunity and security of financially vulnerable people by discovering ideas, piloting solutions, and driving innovations to scale. We discover new financial challenges and explore new innovative solutions. We take the most promising of these new solutions and design real world pilots to see if they work. We then collaborate with consumers, the financial services industry, policy makers, and mission-driven organizations to bring these proven solutions to scale and improve the financial security and opportunity of millions of Americans.

Our efforts over the last 15 years have spawned new financial products and public policies responsible for helping 300,000 Americans to accumulate nearly $200 million dollars in savings. To learn more about the organization, please visit www.buildcommonwealth.org

Position Overview:

The Innovation Strategist plays a key role in helping Commonwealth build and scale innovative financial solutions for financially vulnerable Americans. The individual will be part of an organization and team passionate about making positive, scalable impact on the financial lives of people. The Innovation Strategist will support multiple initiatives.

Responsibilities

- Coordinate projects through task management, organization and disciplined follow up.
- Employ strong interpersonal skills to support and coordinate strategic relationships with financial institutions, community groups, vendors and other critical partners.
- Conduct or support original qualitative and quantitative research.
- Contribute to the scaling of financial innovations by following industry developments, and studying relevant consumer, industry and public policy issues.

- Creatively problem-solve and collaborate with a small, results-oriented team to effectively keep projects on track toward both short-term milestones and long-term strategic objectives.
- Write both online and print communication that describes the work, supports policy efforts, and promotes dissemination of innovations.
- Contribute to a positive organizational culture through consistent high energy, appetite for learning, eagerness to support colleagues and engaged participation on project teams.

Qualifications

- Exceptional organization skills, with the ability to track and support multiple complex projects with both flexibility and close attention to detail.
- Ability to work both collaboratively as part of a team and independently to achieve goals and timelines.
- Aptitude for analytic reasoning and the use of data to inform decision-making.
- Ability to develop solutions to problems creatively as they arise and the judgment to know when to call on colleagues or a supervisor for help.
- Ability to build relationships and work with a diverse range of partners.
- Excellent communication skills. Ability to craft persuasive verbal and written communications for different audiences.
- Flexible and willing to address project needs as they arise.
- Passionate about the mission of Commonwealth and driving social change through promoting economic prosperity for financially vulnerable consumers.
- Familiarity with financial technology innovations and low and middle income consumers a plus.
- 1-2 years of experience in the financial empowerment field, the financial services industry or a related field preferred.
- Undergraduate degree required.
